The above graphic is a computer generated computer composite of a person that the Escondido Police Department is looking for regarding an attempt sexual assault.

On 03/10/02, at about 2:00 p.m., a female adult reported that she was summoned by the above-described person while in the parking lot of the shopping center at Citrus Ave and E. Valley Pkwy. The female walked to the car and looked in via the open driver's side door window. The male was alone in his car and seated in the driver's seat.

The male asked her some questions and when she began to talk to him, she noticed that he had his pants down and his genitals exposed. The male asked made a sexual proposition to her and grabbed her arm to try to pull her into the car.

The female pushed away and was able to break free from the male. She was not injured.

The female ran from the male and he left. About an hour later, the female saw the male driving in the same area as the attack. The female did not have another encounter with the male the second time he was in the parking lot. The female saw him at a distance and she said that the male left in an unknown direction in his car.

This case is currently under investigation by Det. Argent. Anyone with information as to this incident is asked to please call the Escondido Police Department at 760.839.4722 (reference case 02-04122).

This bulletin is being sent to all San Diego County media as well as local law enforcement and City of Escondido employees.

The Escondido Police Department reminds all citizens to report any suspicious activity immediately.
